What will the community contribute to the project? What has it already contributed?

Who and how many people will be the direct beneficiaries of this project?

Solemen currently provides at least 40 food packages to families in need throughout Bali making the total amount of direct beneficiaries 160 to 170 depending upon the family size.

Are there ways in which other people in the area will benefit indirectly from the project?

We hope that neighbours, friends, and family members will join in the education process and see our clients as valuable assets to the communities they reside in.

Who will be responsible for looking after the project once it is completed? Names and their positions

Ayu Wirmayanti – Solemen Outreach Coordinator
 Yupi Astika – Deputy Outreach Team Leader

Will the project become self-supporting? If so, how will the project be sustained on an ongoing basis?

Our goal is to support our Solebuddies in all aspects including education and job search and placement. Our success stories include a number of our clients, especially those who suffer from mental illness, experiencing a new found freedom and working outside the home. This extra income allows them to experience independence and partially support themselves, reducing the need for food parcel support. We then carry on with other clients.

There will always be a need for food parcels. Malnutrition is widespread throughout Bali. However, at many of our Solebuddies have the opportunity to move out of our support scheme.
